The Borrowers agree that quilts will be displayed only indoors and given special care and consideration to protect against theft, loss, fire, water, high humidity, food or any damage from any cause whatsoever at all times while in the Borrowers’ possession. The Borrowers agree to ship the quilts on Monday following a week-end show to the lender (or next exhibit venue) in the same method and condition received according to the enclosed instructions for checking off and returning the quilts. The Borrowers’ insurance carrier would be considered the Primary carrier against loss and damage to quilts while in Borrowers’ possession.

All display formats that might leave residue matter or marks (such as tape, safety pins, push pins or nails on the actual quilt front) are not to be used in mounting this exhibit. Borrowers may hang the quilts by running rods through the sleeves on the back of the quilts or pin the quilts to wall or drapery using the attached rings/tabs or sleeve if they don’t pin into the quilt itself. Touching quilts with gloved hands is permissible.
